Stacey L. Meisel Moderates Panel at National Association of Women Judges' Color of Justice Program for High School Students Interested in Legal Careers

Livingston, N.J., April 29, 2013 – Becker Meisel Co-Founding Member Stacey L. Meisel recently served as the moderator of a panel of legal professionals for the National Association of Women Judges (NAWJ) New Jersey Chapter's Color of Justice program, which endeavors to advance high school students' interest and pursuit of a career in the law.

The program was attended by high school students from the Essex County region and featured panel discussions hosted by judges, attorneys and various other legal professionals.

"The Color of Justice program allowed young attendees the opportunity to network with professionals in the legal industry," said Ms. Meisel. "It also gave professionals like myself a chance to start a mentoring relationship with students who have expressed an interest in joining the field."

Stacey L. Meisel is a founding member of Becker Meisel LLC and co-chairs the firm's Bankruptcy, Insolvency and Creditors' Rights Practice Group. She represents privately held debtors, Chapter 7 and 11 Trustees, secured and unsecured creditors, equity holders, and other interested parties in bankruptcy and state court proceedings in New Jersey, New York, Delaware and other jurisdictions. Ms. Meisel participates in events such as the Color of Justice program frequently as a part of her personal mission of speaking to youth about the importance of diversity in the legal profession.
